LAWSON LAYS KILLING TO RAHN IN $3,750,000 SUIT

COPPER MAGNATE SCORES PARTNER IN MINING ENTERPRISE IN MEXICO.

From the witness stand in the Supreme Court, Thomas W. Lawson declares that Louis N. Rahn, who is suing him for $3,750,000 in connection with the Lawson Company of Mexico, swindled him out of $2,500, and is, besides, responsible for the murder of the superintendent of the mine over which the suit is brought. Mr. Rahn declares both charges are without foundation.

These charges were made by Mr. Lawson in his own defense as a witness in an injunction hearing. Rahn had asked for legal aid to restrain Mr. Lawson from disposing of shares of the Lawson Company of Mexico, on of machinery which he had placed in the mines operated by the company. This injunction has been denied, but Mr. Lawson has voluntarily granted the things Mr. Rahn asked for.

Says Titles Are Imperfect.

Mr. Rahn had previously sued Mr. Lawson for the $2,500,000 because, he alleged, Mr. Lawson had failed to live up to the terms of an agreement by which he was to furnish the money for the working of the mine, but that he refused later to have anything to do with the mine because he found that the titles to the mines were imperfect.

"Why would you not see him when he came to Boston?" he was asked by W. H. Baker, counsel for Rahn.

"He swindled me and was responsible for the murder of my superintendent," was the reply.

"No, I do not charge him with murder. I say he was responsible for it."

"By his trying to defraud some of our Mexicans out of pay, after I had sent him the money, and after he got out of my hands, he left my superintendent, a little bit of a fellow and inefficient, to be stabbed to death, while he stood there and did not lift a hand," Mr. Lawson explained.

"How do you know that?"

"I found it out."

"How did you find it out?"

Left Him to His Fate.

"From people who were witnesses, and I found out that he allowed him to be bartered in his house for two days and two nights, while he wouldn't go out and help him and bear his last statements."

"You asked why? That's why I won't have any business with him; was the last response."

"Anything else?"

"Many things."

"What else?"

"The fact he accounted for $2,500, and told him if he didn't account for it I would sue him."

"Is it right here, ready for you?"

"Yes, and I brought this suit."

"Previously Mr. Rahn had testified as to the agreement with Mr. Lawson. At the conclusion of Mr. Lawson's testimony he was recalled and told of the circumstances surrounding the tragic death of Johnson.

Rahn Nearly Blam.

"I was caught unawares first and lay on for almost a half hour," he said.

"When I came to I looked round to see where Johnson was. Finally I discovered him about 200 yards away. At a little shock, I lay on a sort of fall. He was very badly shaken. When Johnson was taken up to the city and was put into a house, there in the little village, I thought in much blood myself that everybody thought I was going to die and not Johnson."

"Where were you struck?"

"Across the right eye, where you see that scar, and on the back of the head and neck."

LARCENY CHARGED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—Philip D. Westhead, formerly a well-known Boston society man, has been held for grand larceny.

What Hydrofluoric Acid Is.

A thin, colorless, fuming, extremely corrosive liquid, freely soluble in water, prepared by heating fluorospar with sulphuric acid, used in aqueous solution in treatment of gonorrhea, and by inhalation in phthisis and diphtheria.—MEDICAL DICTIONARY.

A powerful, fuming acid, very corrosive, attacking glass and porcelain and etching its surface. It is very soluble in water, the specific gravity of the solution rising to 1.25. The concentrated aqueous acid becomes weaker on boiling, until, when boiling at 120 degrees centigrade, it attains a composition of from 36 to 38 per cent. of the anhydrous acid. Concentrated hydrofluoric acid is a powerful corrosive, having the peculiar property of hardening the skin or tissue with which it comes into contact and continuing its action underneath the hardened tissue, with an extraordinary amount and persistence of pain. The vapor of the acid is exceedingly irritating to the lungs, causing, even when very diluted, spasms of the glottis and other symptoms of irritation. Death has been caused by it.

LABOR LEADER HELD IN CHICAGO IN BOSTON CASE

Thomas F. Ryer, treasurer of Union 11 Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers, who left Boston in 1902, after a shortage of $600 was found in his accounts, has been arrested in Chicago for the Boston police.

Inspector Armstrong will leave Boston tonight for Chicago and bring Ryer back here for trial.

THESE DRINKS WERE DRUGGED.
The agent who sells them in Boston paid $300 fine to-day, because hydrofluoric acid was found in two bottles of W. A. extra pale ale and one bottle of Bartholomew lager beer. These are photographs of the bottles in which drugs were found.

ICE BREAKS UP AND PEARY PUSHES ON

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Dr. Frederick Schen, surgeon of the Peary expedition, steamer Erik, has reached Brooklyn, bringing news that the ice in Smith Sound and daily broke and much open water was visible between Littleton Island and Cape Sabine, and that Peary's ship Roosevelt disappeared. This shows that favorable conditions had arisen, at which Peary had taken advantage to push forward.

Eight Brands of Ale and Beer Charged By State to Have Been Impurely Treated With Chemicals, and Makers of Three Plead Guilty and Pay Fines.

Five brewers or brewers' agents have been indicted by the September grand jury of Suffolk County for selling ale, porter or beer containing drugs. Two of the five pleaded guilty and were fined $100, which they paid.

The Wahlberg Brewing Company of Forest Hills, makers of Wahlberg Beer, pleaded guilty to the charges and paid their fine.

William Albrecht of No. 203 A street, South Boston, New England agent for the Bartholomew Lager Beer Company, Cambridge, was indicted on three counts. He was fined $100, which they paid.

The brewers and agent who pleaded not guilty and will fight the case in court are:

A. W. Nordstrand, of the Danvers Hill Brewery, Charleston, indicted on ten counts for selling ale and porter containing drugs, gave sureties of $1,000 for trial.

The Harvard Brewing Company, indicted on two counts, is held in $1,000 for very trial.

Frank H. Adams of No. 303 Atlantic avenue, New England agent for Bartholomew's Canada malt ale, manufactured in New Jersey, is held in $1,000 for trial. He was indicted on one count.

PROBE FOR BREWERS' SECRETS.

The Boston North and the Harvard Brewing Company will go to trial next week. Searching investigation into the methods of making malt liquors in this State.

The District Attorney will probe into the use of sulphuric acid and other substances used in the manufacture of the Massachusetts Breweries Company and other brewers' products. They stopped the sale of the products for several months ago.

"CONVICT 99," THE STORY OF AN IRISH-AMERICAN PERSECUTED IN AN ENGLISH PRISON. BEGINS IN THE BOSTON AMERICAN TO-MORROW

1

"I believe myself that Home Rule will be achieved, and it will be no more wonderful than the achievement of the land reform that has taken place. And then men will ask each other why it had not been granted long ago."—William Redmond in statement to the Boston American.

REDMOND, CHEERED IN BOSTON, RECARES HOME RULE FACTORY

Irish Patriot Glories in Party's Successes in English Parliament.

Conservatives For Home Rule

There has been in Ireland a remarkable change in regard to the Irish party. It has always had the bulk of the Nationalists upon its side. But lately many of the conservative people in Ireland have been demanding a change in the government of the country. Many of the leading Protestants in Ireland are now asking for Home Rule—William Redmond, Ireland's leader in interview with BOSTON AMERICAN reporter.

William Henry Kearney Redmond, M. P., with Mrs. Redmond, in whose honor the central council of the United Irish League has arranged a monster reception and athletic tournament at the American League grounds in New York, arrived in Boston last night. Mr. and Mrs. Redmond came to this city from New York, where they resided a few days after a triumphant trip across the continent. At Providence they were met by the officers and members of the committee of the League, who accompanied them to this city.

In the delegation were Dr. Thomas J. Dillon, president of the Municipal Council of the United Irish League; Dr. O'Connell, secretary of the council; Daniel P. Sullivan, treasurer; Dennis O'Reilly, treasurer; and Michael Jordan, John P. Woods, Michael J. Mayne, John H. Brown, Charles Coleman, T. H. Hester, James Lloyd, Christopher J. Fitzgerald, Martin Roche, and Dr. P. J. T. O'Connell. A party of the meeting was held at the Hotel Marlborough, and the delegation was presented with a handsome bunch of flowers by the committee of the League. The presentation was made by Mr. Mayne on behalf of his associates.

When the party reached the South station a crowd of about 500 persons were waiting their arrival, and with difficulty a car was made to contain the delegation. Mr. Redmond will stop while in the city, and will then proceed to New York, where he will be met by the committee of the League.

To a Boston AMERICAN reporter who was on the train from New York to Boston, Mr. Redmond said that he was very glad to see the delegation, and that he was very glad to see the delegation.

See Justice of Irish Cause

People have come to realize the justice of the claim for Irish political independence, and in England many appreciate the fact that with Home Rule for Ireland there would be more time for the British Parliament to care for important matters for the English people.

There is a blending of all classes in Ireland today. The feeling of sectarianism is giving place to a better feeling of mutual respect and toleration.

"Convict 99"

This thrilling story tells how a young Irish-American, who had incurred the enmity of an English "gentleman," was persecuted almost to the scaffold, and all but murdered in an English prison.

The most fascinating tale of the century.

Every man who loves liberty should read it, and learn the real horrors of Wormwood Scrubs and Grimley. "Convict 99" throws the searchlight on England's treatment of Irish patriots.

SPORTS BOSTON AMERICAN BY ITS CORPS OF EXPERTS

IN ATHLETIC CARNIVAL AT AMERICAN LEAGUE GROUNDS

COE WILL MEET SHERIDAN

STARS OF ATHLETIC WORLD

All Track Events Compete in Games at American League Park Tomorrow.

MARTIN SHERIDAN.

At the monster athletic carnival, which is to be held in honor of the great Irish writer and statesman, William Hamilton, M. P., at the American League grounds tomorrow afternoon, two of the greatest athletes of modern times will be among the competitors.

They are Wesley W. Coe of Sumnerville, the world's champion shot putter, and Martin J. Sheridan of New York, who recently captured the national all-around championship laurels for 1905.

When these two giants meet in the weight events the keenest of competition is expected. So hard will they press each other that it is predicted that all former marks will be rubbed off the boards.

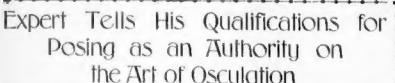

In the shot put, Coe is considered to be the superior of his Gotham rival, while in the discus it is a toss-up as to the better man.

Schedule of Games.

The athletic games will include the 100-yard dash, 200-yard dash, 400-yard dash, 800-yard dash, 1,600-yard dash, 3,200-yard dash, 6,400-yard dash, 12,800-yard dash, 25,600-yard dash, 51,200-yard dash, Advice and Aid to Those in Trouble

Education is largely determined by one's social class. The distinctiveness of the bourgeoisie is that it is the only class that is able to afford to educate its children. In order to avoid the perils of the proletariat, the bourgeoisie must ensure that its children are educated to the point of being able to enter the service of the state or the private sector. This is why the bourgeoisie is so concerned with the education of its children. It is this concern that has led to the development of the modern educational system. The bourgeoisie has created a system of education that is designed to produce a workforce that is capable of performing the tasks of the modern economy. This system of education is based on the idea of the division of labor. YAK HAWAII'S SON

A Story of Stirring Adventure, Aloft and Ashore, of a Brave Boy

By CAPTAIN RICHARD RUDD, Author of "WHO KILLED GERALD BROWN?"

YESTERDAY we left our young hero Jack Harkaway, face to face with the cheetah, or leopard, in the jungle, and he had been on the Palisades, and doing his best that he might save the lives of two children whom the great beast was hunting down when he discovered it.

CHAPTER XXVII.

His chest had now approached so closely to the children that the youngsters were so greatly startled that Jack was still dry jerk away.

He knew that unless something was done immediately one and perhaps both of the youngsters would be crushed against the cheetah's teeth.

Then it was that Jack was grateful for the last afternoon he had spent on the Palisades.

He could throw the spear of the catapult and the accuracy of a rifle.

On his wall now lay the only hope left to the children.

Jack stooped to the ground and gathered up several stones the size of baseballs that lay along the roadway.

Then he ran at full speed in the direction of the leopard, delivering the stones with terrific force when he came within ten feet of the animal.

The beast was told within a foot of the animal's head.

A second stone, hurled with more deadly aim, caught him in the neck.

With a scream the brute sprang back, and Jack saw the beast's eyes were now turned to him.

He heard the stone and paused.

He was now within ten feet of Jack, and he saw the beast's eyes were now turned to him.

JAP ACTOR DOESN'T LIKE TERMS OF PEACE TREATY

Tsunetara Tamamoto, of 'Heir to the Hoora' Company, Says

"It Is Up to Government."

"My name is hard to pronounce—something like 'Tomato.' You ask me what I think about the Russian-Japanese treaty, and I'll go. I can look down on it, but that is up to government, as you say here."

Mr. Tsunetara Tamamoto, the clever Japanese actor who plays the part of 'Heir to the Hoora' at the Hotel St. Charles, says this in his private but slightly accented English.

Mr. Tamamoto has considerable to say for a value in a play, mainly when demonstrating a little bit of the Japanese art. He is a very good actor, and he is very much interested in the Japanese art.

THE LANCET NEWS

Boston will have a laundry, union from top to bottom, if a state statute can be passed.

The laundry workers' union is now looking over the ground.

It has always been a source of regret that Boston has not had a union laundry.

No general strike could be called in Boston, as the laundry workers' union is now looking over the ground.

The matter was considered at length at a meeting of the Laundry Workers' Union.

The union will come up at the next meeting. The meeting, which was held at the Hotel Hamilton, was a success.

A committee was appointed to endeavor to secure a state statute which would give the laundry workers' union the right to strike.

THE BOY WHO IS A DAY OR TWO AWAY FROM THE BEST HE CAN GET INTO THE HABIT OF SHIRKING.

To-morrow he will do less than to-day, and pretty soon he will be one of those people who stand on street corners or sit on park benches and complain because they don't get what they think they should out of this world.

Don't be like that. Go forward and not backward; look up and not down; look out and not in, and DO THE BEST YOU CAN.

THE FORGIVEN ERRANT SPUSE

DENVER, Col., Sept. 12.—The great love that Mrs. Henry Dalton of Cambridge, Mass., will bear her husband, Dr. Dalton, has led her to give him up to the woman who holds his heart, and she will not prosecute her faithless spouse for bigamy.

Dr. Dalton and the second Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. Bruce McCallister, have disappeared, and it is believed in this city that they have gone to the South Sea Islands.

Before their disappearance they went to the big ranch of a friend named Brown, two miles from Denver. Dr. Dalton and Mrs. Brown then intended to go to the hotel where they were staying, but they were not seen again.

"I have given up my husband to the woman who holds his heart," said Mrs. Dalton to a friend. "I would rather be his wife than his mistress."

The woman who holds his heart is a young girl named Louise Stevenson, a graduate of the University of Denver.
